Dear Ms. Nicolay:

In accordance with Section 303-a of the Agriculture and Markets Law, the Monroe County Legislature submitted to me, by Resolution No. 1 of 2009, a district review plan to modify Monroe County Agricultural District No. 5.

Following review of the plan and its related documentation, I find that the plan is eligible for districting.

In accordance with the statutory procedures for certification of agricultural district review plans, the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation has determined that the District is consistent with state environmental plans, policies and objectives.

In consideration of my review of the plan and the determination of the Commissioner of Environmental Conservation, I hereby certify that:

- A. The District is eligible for districting.
- B. The District consists predominantly of viable agricultural land.
- C. The plan of the District is feasible.
- D. The District will serve the public interest by assisting in maintaining a viable agricultural industry within the District and the State.

The County is required to complete the next review of Agricultural District No. 5 on or before December 19, 2016.

Signed and Sealed at the Town of Colonie,
County of Albany, New York,

1.0 INTRODUCTION

Article 25AA of the New York State Agriculture and Markets Law, titled Agricultural Districts, provides counties with the opportunity to create agricultural districts for the purpose of protecting and promoting the agriculture industry. Once created, the law requires that each district must be reviewed on an eight, ten, or 12-year basis to see if it is still achieving its intended purpose. In Monroe County, districts must be reviewed every eight years.

Monroe County's Northwestern Agricultural District was created in 1976 as the County's fifth agricultural district. The district is located in the Towns of Clarkson, Greece, Hamlin, Ogden, Parma, and Sweden. Its general location is shown in Map 1. A list of parcels comprising the existing district is included as Appendix A.

This report on the district contains an overview of the review process, a listing of proposed district modifications, a discussion of the review factors that are required in Article 25AA for district reviews, and the recommendation to continue the district with modifications.

2.0 REVIEW PROCESS

The agricultural district review process is prescribed in Sections 303-a of Article 25AA. The process calls for the agricultural and farmland protection board to prepare a report concerning various factors and make a recommendation to the county legislative body regarding the district. The review is a participatory process that also includes citizens within and adjacent to the district and encourages landowners to review and to provide direct input in the final makeup of the district (see Appendix B). It is during this review process that a landowner may request to add land to or remove land from a district. Adding land to or removing land from a district results in a modified district. Finally, input is also encouraged from town leaders, core farmers, agribusiness, and interested citizens.

Participation by all of these groups enables a thorough examination of the complex and dynamic considerations that must be balanced to continued non-farm economic growth while also protecting a valuable, nonrenewable natural and economic resource.

Generally, the process is as follows:

- After receiving notification from the state that the review should be undertaken, the county legislative body publishes a legal notice announcing that the review is underway and that the municipalities in the district and the public have 30 days to submit requests for district modification to the county legislative body. The review considers the needs of the farmers in the area, the development goals and objectives of the municipalities within the agricultural district, and the county's development goals and objectives for the area of the county in which the district is located.
- At the end of the 30-day period, the requests received by the county legislative body are forwarded to the agricultural and farmland protection board for review. This board uses these communications along with other pertinent information to develop a joint recommendation on the district. This recommendation is then forwarded to the county legislative body for action.

- The county legislative body holds a public hearing at a location in the agricultural district to present the recommendation and to obtain any final comments. If necessary, the legislative body revises the recommendation following the public hearing and typically acts to continue and/or modify the district. This recommendation is then forwarded to the New York State Department of Agriculture and Markets for district certification. The review process ends when the county receives a district certification notice from the Department of Agriculture and Markets.

3.0 DISTRICT REVIEW

During the month of August 2008, members of the Monroe County Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board (AFPB) met to consider the proposed district boundary modifications and the factors in Section 303-a that are required to be included in the review process.

3.1 Proposed District Boundary Modifications

A list of parcels to be added to the district and a list of parcels to be removed from the district is included as Appendix C. This information is summarized in Table 1.

The breakdown of the requests to add land to the districts is as follows: One request to add one parcel from the Town of Hamlin totaling 59.4 acres, and six requests to add six parcels from the Town of Parma totaling 226.2 acres.

There were two owners with one parcel each requesting to remove land from the district as follows: one request from the Town of Clarkson to remove 21.4 acres, and one request from the Town of Greece to remove one acre.

The district in its present form is shown on Map 2; the proposed modifications are also shown on Map 2. The requests to add land to the district amount to approximately 286 acres while the proposals to remove land from the district amount to approximately 22 acres. The modifications would result in a net increase of 264 acres to the Northwestern Agricultural District.

Upon the completion of the last review of this district in 2000, the district's acreage was reported as 37,385.5 acres. However, with inclusions from annual additions (256 acres in 2006 and 116 acres in 2007) and improved accuracy of Monroe County Real Property Tax Service (RPTS) data, the district's total before this review is approximately 37,831 acres. Therefore, when the net increase of 264 acres is added to 37,831 acres, the districts proposed acreage is 38,095 acres.

3.2 Consideration of Review Factors

Section 303-a of Article 25AA lists the factors that the Monroe County AFPB is to consider in reviewing an agricultural district. The following text represents the results of the consideration of these factors as they relate to the review of the Monroe County Northwestern Agricultural District #5.

3.2.1 Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board Economic Factors

1. Nature of Farming and Farm Resources within District

The crops comprising the largest acreage in the district are corn, wheat, soybeans, dry beans and hay. Cabbage, sweet corn, winter squash, and peas are grown primarily as processing and fresh market vegetables and comprise the second largest acreage of any crops produced within the district. There are two dairy farms in the district. Following a national trend, dairy farm numbers have declined but stabilized due to competitive pressures, retirement of operators, shortages of skilled labor and the costs of equipment associated with replacement and updating.

2. Overall Status of Farming, the Farm Economy, and Farm Investment

Farm operations continue to be a significant land use within the district; a profile is included in Appendix D.

Recent upswings in commodity and vegetable prices has helped offset the rising opportunity costs of a non-farm economy that tends to present challenges and incentives to the district's farmers to convert their land into development. During the last two years, commodity prices have risen dramatically; however, operating expenses such as fertilizer and fuel have increased dramatically, causing profit margins to be squeezed and periods of tight cash flow. Capital replacement (facilities and equipment) tends to be tied to commodity prices and some farms have responded in kind. Some farmers continue to borrow on their equity or sell assets (land) in order to generate cash flow to pay operating expenses and replace capital items. Increasing equipment and other fixed costs continue to force some farmers to spread their fixed costs over large acreage in order to achieve increasing returns to scale on capital investments. Having been a historic trend, there are fewer farmers but the same number of farmed acres within the district since its inception. Discussions with core farmers have indicated that given current commodity prices, both mid and large size farms continue to make replacements and upgrade capital investments that will enable them to remain competitive in the local, national and international marketplace.

3. The Extent to which the Number of Farms and Farm Acres in District Furthers the Purposes for which District was Originally Created

The majority of the land in the district is farmed with a slight decline in total farm numbers. Many farm operators continue to rent farmland which has stabilized and/or slightly reduced the amount of farmed acreage. As shown in Table 1, acreage in the district has expanded; this is because most farm landowners want to own farmland and enjoy certain rights and privileges provided by the district. Discussions with core farmers have indicated that nuisance issues remain the same, and periodically continue to be a major concern with non-farm neighbors. Both farmers and municipal officials indicate that the agricultural district has helped them manage and mitigate complaints concerning agricultural practices through better planning and a venue for addressing and mitigating complaints. The legal protections, review and planning processes, provided by the agricultural district law, have had a favorable impact on reducing complaints and incidents of conflicting land use.

4. The Extent to which the District has Achieved its Original Objectives

Agricultural land continues to be subdivided and converted to non-farm uses, especially in the Towns of Parma and Hamlin. Nearly all of the development is low-density residential development. Agricultural assessment values and protection from nuisance ordinances and lawsuits have enabled producers to remain in business. Some farmers continue to rent considerable acreage from landowners who are passively involved in production agriculture. These landowners want to own farmland and are able to do so economically by receiving agricultural assessment values.

Without agricultural assessments, many producers and landowners would be under severe economic pressure to convert their land to non-farm uses.

5. County Agricultural and Farmland Protection Planning or Implementation Efforts Pursuant to Article 25AAA.

The Monroe County legislature adopted the Agricultural and Farmland Protection Plan in March 1999. This plan includes an inventory, analysis, and recommendations concerning the disposition of agricultural lands throughout the County as well as within the district. Sweden has implemented a right to farm law, while the towns of Hamlin and Ogden have incorporated farmland protection and planning strategies into their comprehensive plans. Currently, the Town of Parma has received funding to develop a town wide farmland protection plan that would be completed some time during 2009.

6. Recommendations to Continue, Terminate or Modify District

Based on the viability of agriculture as both an industry and land use within the proposed district and the continued development pressure, it remains prudent to promote an economic climate that minimizes and mitigates land speculation and accounts for any adverse impact of development. Therefore, the Monroe County Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board strongly recommends the renewal and modification of the Northwestern Agricultural District (see Appendix E.)

3.2.2 Agriculture and Farmland Protection Board Municipal Factors

1. Effect of District on County and Local Comprehensive Plans, Policies and Objectives

Agriculture is a recommended land use and the intent of the district is both complimentary and consistent in the municipal comprehensive plans of all towns. The district renewal process provides citizens, the agriculture community and local officials the opportunity to discuss and strengthen the impact that the district offers to each municipality. Agricultural district regulations require municipal planning to be reviewed and consistent with the intent of the agricultural districts program.

County Comprehensive Plan

The conceptual plan for the County's development pattern is contained in the Land Use Element of the adopted Monroe County Comprehensive Development Plan (1975). The Plan recommends that a limited portion of the district would be needed for urban development through the year 2000. The population increase projected for this area has yet to be realized, hence there should be ample land for development needs outside the district. Areas that have water, sewers, and a good transportation system should be targeted to receive the development that accompanies development expansion in this area. Areas that cannot readily support the various conditions required for development without significant outlays of public monies to provide improvements should be isolated from development and targeted for other non-intensive uses such as agriculture.

The Northwestern Agricultural District has had a positive influence on the County's comprehensive plan in that it reinforces the plan's land use recommendations for this portion of the County.

District Capital Improvements

Based on a review of the County's annual capital improvement programs since 2000, the last time the Northwestern Agricultural District was reviewed, capital improvement projects undertaken were predominately attributed to the Monroe County Water Authority (MCWA). However the Town of Hamlin has petitioned to create a water district in order to provide potable water for residents within the project area. The project would affect 36 parcels accounting for 642.62 acres in the district. The excavation itself would only impact 0.7 acres. The Town passed a resolution effectively placing a lateral restriction on the proposed water line within the district for any uses other than agricultural.

Over the last eight years, the Monroe County Water Authority has replaced existing water mains and increased transmission on NYS Route 31 in the Towns of Ogden and Sweden, on Wilder Road in the Town of Parma and on Ridge Road in the Town of Clarkson. Within the next eight years, MCWA anticipates a water storage tank and transmission main; however, this is still in the discussion phases and a location has not been evaluated or discussed at this time.

In February 2007, Monroe County Department of Environmental Services (MCDES) completed a capital improvement project at the Buttonwood Low Lift (Screw) Pump Station in the Town of Greece. Buttonwood Pump Station is located at 15 North Greece Road, north of Frisbee Hill Road and south of Hinchey Road.

There are future projects scheduled over the next five years at the Northwest Wastewater Treatment Plant; however, these are for upgrades and repairs which should have no or very little impact on the Northwestern Agricultural District.

Reportedly, these are the only significant projects MCDES has completed in the past eight years or to be completed in the near future within the NW Agricultural District, excluding other maintenance type projects or activities.

In July 2005, the Genesee Transportation Council (GTC) Transportation Improvement Program (TIP) started an effort to extend NYS Route 531. The New York State Department of Transportation (NYSDOT) is conducting several engineering and environmental studies including an analysis to agricultural lands within the area.

On January 10, 2007, NYSDOT at a meeting in Brockport indicated three options 1) keeping the western terminus of NYS Route 531 at NYS Route 36; 2) an extension of NYS Route 531 along a new right-of-way to Redman Road, one mile west of NYS Route 19, southwest of Brockport; and, 3) upgrade NYS Route 31 between NYS Route 36 and Redman Road.

Based on a review of the County's annual capital improvement programs since 2000, the last time the Northwestern Agricultural District was reviewed, capital improvement projects undertaken was predominately attributed to the Monroe County Water Authority.

Municipal Comprehensive Plans

The comprehensive plans for the Towns of Clarkson, Greece, Hamlin, Ogden, Parma and Sweden have been periodically reviewed regarding their consistency with the purpose and intent of the district and have large tracts of land devoted to cropland. Large lot residential zoning is still used to discourage development in agricultural areas within these towns; however this planning philosophy is being reexamined by at least three municipalities. When feasible, development is encouraged in desired areas by the location of water and sewer lines.

The comprehensive plans for Clarkson, Hamlin, Ogden, Parma and Sweden largely recognize and state the importance of agriculture in their communities. To a large degree, these towns have stated most if not all of the following policies to encourage farmland preservation within their towns:

1. Encouraging the renewal of agriculture districts and supporting provisions of the Agricultural District Law.
2. Discourage the placement of public sanitary sewers and other utilities and services that would encourage growth in those areas of the towns designated as agriculture on land use plans.
3. Residential development proposed for agricultural areas should be limited to low density, single-family units and located so as to minimize potential loss of agricultural soils or the disruption of agricultural operations.
4. Development in rural and agricultural areas should occur on lands either unsuitable for farming or on lands where conflicts would be minimal.
5. Prevent enactment of nuisance laws that would interfere with normal agricultural activities.
6. Encourage citizen understanding of the economics of agricultural production.

Elected officials of Clarkson, Hamlin, Ogden, Parma, and Sweden have indicated understanding that historically low commodity prices, increasing equipment costs, shortages of labor and increasing land costs due to urban expansion continue to entice farmers to sell land for non-agricultural uses. The supervisors of these towns strongly advocate landowner participation in the agricultural district program. They believe that the continued implementation of the previously mentioned policies will hopefully slow down the rate of land being converted to non-agricultural uses.

Some of the comprehensive plans have specified innovative planning techniques to preserve farmland. Clarkson, Ogden, Parma, and Sweden favor the use of conservation easements and purchase of development rights programs. The Town of Clarkson plan recommends the adoption of a right-to-farm ordinance while the Town of Sweden enacted and supports a right-to-farm ordinance.

The Town of Greece does mention the use of agricultural lands but does not highlight or recommend the use of agricultural districts within its Master Plan.

The town's existing land use map shows numerous scattered parcels identified as agricultural use, several of which are located in intensely developed areas. Those parcels currently in agricultural use represent approximately 7.5 percent of the town's land area. The majority of agricultural land is located in the western portion of the town. In general, Greece contains fertile lands that produce good yields and many types of crops. Lake Ontario modifies the climate of these areas, providing excellent conditions for fruit production. However, the plan stipulates that remnant parts of farms within highly developed areas of the town probably will not remain viable for farming, at least in the traditional sense. Specialized, high-value crops such as herbs and berries (organic produce) may find a niche within these areas; however, these activities likely will succumb to high land values.

2. Impacts of Nonagricultural Development on District

When converting lands that are receiving an agricultural value assessment (tax exemption) to a developed use, the portion of the parcel converted to development is subject to conversion penalty, often referred to as a rollback penalty. The conversion penalty is the difference between the value of its developed use minus the agricultural value times five plus interest. Although rollback penalties may not deter landowners from converting agricultural land to single-family homes in the future, it is indicative of and at times a drawback for development in the district. The following reported rollbacks:

- The Town of Hamlin reports 11 partial conversions of properties resulting in penalties in the last eight years on 42.70 acres.
- The Town of Greece reported one rollback during 2004 for 94 acres.
- The Town of Ogden had 24 agricultural roll backs from 2000 to 2004 with the following breakdown: 2000 to 2001, one rollback per each year; 2002, four rollbacks; 2003, 12 rollbacks, and; 2004, three rollbacks.

Except for Parma, there have been minimal complaints about agricultural practices and overall the farming community and their neighbors have been compatible. The state mandated property disclosure notice has provided early notification to non-farm neighbors that they are likely to experience effects from farming operations. Early notification helps formulate realistic expectations of non-farm neighbors thereby helping minimize complaints. However, additional development of single-family dwellings may potentially lead to complaints about odors, noise and dust from farms, especially if disclosure notification is not done. Although farmers may be protected from nuisance lawsuits by provisions in the agricultural district law, awareness and education will still be required of their non-farm neighbors regarding the day-to-day activities conducted on nearby farms.

3. Degree of Coordination between Local Laws, Ordinances, Rules and Regulations that Apply to Farm Operations in the District and their Influence on Farming

The Towns of Clarkson, Hamlin, Ogden, Parma and Sweden have enacted laws and policies to encourage preserve and promote agriculture within their municipalities. Each municipality is highlighted below with respect to its zoning laws.

All municipalities provide laws that generally protect and promote farming within the district. Except for the Town of Greece, most zoning codes (mostly residential zoning), do not prohibit agriculture. However, several conflicts (i.e. Parma) have arisen regarding farm operations and have been deemed as in conflict with local zoning and/or ordinances.

Although the Farmland Protection Plan recommends the creation of agricultural zoning for agricultural areas to encourage farming, except for Parma, no municipalities within the district have proposed a comprehensive agricultural zoning code. Reportedly, several farmers, large lot landowners and public and appointed officials do not support the creation of a comprehensive agricultural zoning code within respective municipalities.

Reportedly, all municipalities in the District use the Agriculture Data Statement (ADS) to assess and communicate the impacts of potential non-farm development proposed on land that is part of an active farm in the district or is proposed for land which is within 500 feet of an active farm in the district. The municipal board reviewing the proposed non-farm development must determine, based on information provided in the ADS and by adjacent farmers, whether the proposed development will conflict with present and future farming operations and if so, determine appropriate mitigation measures.

The following information, although not exhaustive, highlights potential conflicts with municipal codes requiring minimum lot size, limitations on the sale of farm products, limitations on noise and types of agricultural activities. Hence, this section emphasizes the importance of municipalities to review and modify their existing code in the interests of protecting and promoting agriculture as a land use and being consistent with Agriculture and Markets Law. Only municipalities having land within the Northwestern agricultural District were reviewed.

Town of Clarkson: Generally, municipal codes appear to be consistent with agricultural districts law; however, farm labor housing may pose unreasonable restrictions. Setting minimum dimensions, lot size exceeding 10,000 square feet or more, screening, and/or immediate removal of farm labor housing if unoccupied may be considered unreasonable.

Town of Greece: The Town's definition of a farm is "A lot or any combination of contiguous lots, either owned or leased, which comprises not less than ten acres in area and which is principally used for agricultural purposes, including but not limited to horticulture; plant nurseries; apiaries; fish hatcheries; animal or poultry husbandry; dairying; pasturing; and the customary accessory structures necessary for the storage or sale of the agricultural goods produced on said lot. This definition shall not include stables, as defined by this chapter, or stockyards or commercial feedlots.”

Establishing a minimum lot size for farm operation within a zoning district that includes land within a certified agricultural district may be unreasonably restrictive. The definition of a farm operation as described in AML 301 subd. 11 does not include an acreage threshold. Also, the definition on a farm in the code may be problematic as it excludes the raising of fur-bearing animals, riding academies and livery or boarding stables.

The town definition of junk is “Any manufactured good, appliance, fixture, furniture, machinery, motor vehicle, recreational vehicle, trailer or similar object which is abandoned, demolished, discarded, dismantled or so worn, deteriorated or in such a condition as to be generally unusable in its existing state. This definition shall include but shall not be limited to scrap metal, scrap material, waste bottles, cans, paper, rubble, boxes, crates, rags, used construction materials, motor vehicle parts and used tires.”

Some of these “junk” items are commonly found on farms and may or may not be considered junk to the farm operation. For example, tires may be used to keep coverings in place and items such as used metal, waste paper, rags, plastic and discarded materials are collected and piled on the farm to be taken to the local waste transfer station. Junked vehicles, particularly trucks and farm equipment may be kept for spare parts to repair functional trucks and equipment. Generally, requiring farmers to obtain a junkyard license or permit to keep items used on the farm in an amount and scope directly related to a the agricultural operation is unreasonably restrictive.

Town of Hamlin: Extensive areas in the town contain soil types well suited for agriculture crops and fruit orchards and influence the town’s development plan, policies and jurisdictional matters. Generally, the code is consistent with agricultural districts law; however, under the noise ordinance only farm machinery is exempt. Consequently, other farming activities, animal agriculture and other specialized processes may be unreasonably restricted.

The town code requires a ten-acre minimum lot size. Establishing a minimum lot size for a farm market and/or farm operation within a zoning district that includes land within a certified agricultural district may be unreasonably restrictive. The definition of a farm operation, as provided in AML §301 subd. 11, does not include an acreage threshold.

The Town of Hamlin’s definition of junk follows: “...includes but is not limited to any manufactured good, appliance, fixture, furniture, machinery, motor vehicle, recreational vehicle, trailer or similar object which is abandoned, demolished, discarded, dismantled or so worn, deteriorated or in such a condition as to be generally unusable in its existing state. This definition shall include but shall not be limited to scrap metal, scrap material, waste bottles, cans, paper, rubble, boxes, crates, rags, used construction materials, motor vehicle parts and used tires.”

Some of these “junk” items are commonly found on farms and may or may not be considered junk to the farm operation. For example, tires may be used to keep coverings in place and items such as used metal, waste paper, rags, plastic and discarded materials are collected and piled on the farm to be taken to the local waste transfer station. Junked vehicles, particularly trucks and farm equipment may be kept for spare parts to repair functional trucks and equipment. Generally, requiring farmers to obtain a junkyard license or permit to keep items used on the farm in an amount and scope directly related to a the agricultural operation is unreasonably restrictive.

Town of Ogden: The Town of Ogden’s Comprehensive Plan states “development can be better managed through regulation of the density (total number of houses per unit area) and the location of development rather than establishment of a minimum lot size.” The recommended density for rural residential development varies from one dwelling per acre to one dwelling per five acres. Large lot sizes are required only where necessary for safe operation of on site sewage disposal systems.

Bedrock located within several feet of the surface is found throughout Ogden’s farmland. Bedrock is a natural deterrent to development because it makes water for wells more difficult to locate. In addition, development in the prime farming areas on the west side of town is unlikely because of the high cost of extending sewer lines through the bedrock. Furthermore, the village of Spencerport’s sewage treatment facility is at capacity, which precludes sewer line extension into adjacent areas.

Town of Parma: The town code requires a five-acre minimum lot size. Establishing a minimum lot size for a farm market and/or farm operation within a zoning district that includes land within a certified agricultural district may be unreasonably restrictive. The definition of a farm operation, as provided in AML §301 subd. 11, does not include an acreage threshold.

The town code also appears to restrict horse boarding and may be unreasonable as applied to commercial horse boarding operations with agricultural districts law.

Agricultural uses in an agricultural district are not “special uses.” Therefore, absent any showing of an overriding local concern, an exemption from special use permits should be provided by the town to farm operations located in an agricultural district; requiring special permits may unreasonably restrict a farm operation and may be in violation of NYS AML, Article 25AA, Section 306-a.1.

Temporary greenhouses specifically designed, constructed and used for the culture and propagation of horticultural commodities are exempt from requirements for building permits; however, they are not exempt from local zoning requirements. The erection and use of temporary greenhouses as part of a farm operation, including nursery/greenhouse operations, produce farms and livestock farms is protected under NYS AML, Article 25AA, Section 305-a.

The stockpiling of soil and mulch are often necessary for the on farm production, preparation and marketing of nursery stock. Soil and mulch are used on the farm to plant and care for nursery stock which is grown in the ground on the farm and to prepare stock for sale. The storage, use and sale of soil, mulch and potting soil in an amount consistent with the size and scope of a nursery is considered part of a farm operation within an agricultural district.

Imposing noise ordinances involving agricultural activities, especially barking dogs associated with a farm operation within an agricultural district may unreasonably restrict a farm operation and may be in violation of NYS AML, Article 25AA.

Zoning provisions regarding temporary housing for farm labor may pose unreasonable restrictions. Setting minimum dimensions, lot size exceeding 10,000 square feet or more, screening, and/or immediate removal of farm labor housing if unoccupied may be considered unreasonable.

Town of Sweden: The town's zoning laws are supportive of agriculture. In 1993, a right-to-farm ordinance was enacted. A major obstacle to development in agricultural areas is bedrock which is close to the surface and proves difficulty for locating water for wells and forces homeowners to install expensive septic systems that have large surface areas. At this time, it is not cost effective to extend sewer and water lines outside the Village of Brockport due to the depth of this bedrock.

4.0 RECOMMENDATION TO CONTINUE, TERMINATE OR MODIFY DISTRICT

The Northwestern Agricultural District continues to provide benefits to member farmers and agricultural landowners that wish to keep their land in farming. This fact is substantiated by the fact that seven landowners have requested that 286 acres of land be added to the district. Thus, in order to preserve and support the continuation of agriculture in the northwestern portion of the county, the Monroe County Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board recommends the renewal and modification of the Northwestern Agricultural District. Monroe County conducted a SEQR review and made a finding of no significant impact (Appendix F) and resolved to continue and modify the Northwestern Agricultural District #5 (Appendix G.).

The Honorable
Monroe County Legislature
407 County Office Building
Rochester, New York 14614

SUBJECT: Addition of Eight Parcels and Removal of Two Parcels from the Monroe County Agricultural Northwest District #5

Honorable Legislators:

Article 25AA of the NYS Agriculture and Markets law allows additions, removals and modifications to established agricultural districts during an eight-year review date. The Law also requires the county agricultural and farmland protection board review the proposed additions, removals and modifications to the district and make recommendations on the proposal to the legislative body. Resolution number 50 of 2008 adopted by Your Honorable Body directed the Agricultural and Farmland Protection Board to review and make recommendations on additions, removals, and modifications to the district.

Therefore, in accordance with Article 25AA, we are pleased to transmit our review and update of the Northwest Agricultural District #5 report along with our findings and recommendations for including eight parcels requested by six landowners for addition to the District and the removal of two parcels requested by two landowners for development purposes (see below).

Based on interviews with each owner and a site visit of each parcel, four parcels are largely comprised of predominantly viable agricultural land while the remaining four parcels have either some agricultural activity or provide support and or a transition area for an adjacent agricultural operation. Therefore, our Board recommends the inclusion of these parcels into the district in order to serve the public interest by assisting in maintaining a viable agricultural industry within respective municipalities.

391 Morton Road, Town of Hamlin, consisting of 59.40 acres, tax account number 011.02-1-19.121, owned by Jerry L. Borkholder. The land is in landscape trees with new plantings of nut trees. The land also abuts Breslawski farms.

2104 Monroe County Line Road, Town of Hamlin, consisting of 121 acres, owned by A. David and Betty Joseph, tax account number 019.040-04-002. The land is currently planted in mostly pasture and field corn.

420 North Avenue, Town of Parma, consisting of 7.59 acres, tax account number 016.03-2-26.2, owned by Alan Des Grange. The land is considered support and transition ground for abutting/adjacent farmed parcels.

274 Burritt Road, Town of Parma, consisting of 63.23 acres, tax account number 032.04-1-8.101, owned by Roger A. Odell. The land is in the federal conservation reserve program.

684 Burritt Road, Town of Parma, consisting of 15.67 acres, owned by Jonathan Dean, tax account number 031.04-1-16.111. The land is leased by a local farmer for hay.

422 Huffer Road, Town of Parma, consisting of 68.4 acres, owned by John Bolton, tax account number 015.02-2-2. The land is predominantly pasture and paddocks with an aging hay field. The owner intends on starting a greenhouse facility on the parcel within the next six months.

1250 Ogden Parma Town Line Road, Town of Parma, consisting of 47.1 acres, tax account number 070.040-1-1, owned by Randall Robb and operated by Margie and Randall Robb. This land is currently in field corn and soybean rotation.

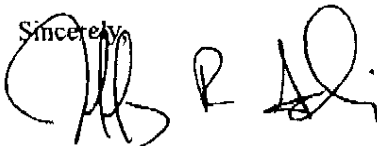

158 Lighthouse Road, Town of Parma, consisting of 24 acres, tax account number 016.02-2-3, owned by George Weis. This land is currently serving as a buffer and transition area for a neighboring farm. The owner has indicated an interest in starting nursery stock and vineyard on the parcel.

The Board recommends that the following parcels, as requested by the landowners, be removed from the District for pending development purposes:

West Avenue, Town of Clarkson, consisting of 21.4 acres, owned by Leonard Quinn, tax account number 068.02-1-23.2. This land has not been farmed for 20 years and is abutted by mixed uses. Owner intends to sell for development and is not interested in renting out the property for farming.

1160 Manitou Road, Town of Greece, consisting of 1 acre, owned by Richard A. Holden, tax account number 044.03-1-37. This land is building parcel, left over from a farm that has ceased to operate.

Sincerely,
